

WARSHIPS WILL HAVE TO DISARM

Taotai at Shanghai Gives Russians Time Limit.

ASKOLD CANNOT GET AWAY

BOTH VESSELS PERMANENTLY OUT OF THE WAR.

Changhai, Aug. 20.—The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi has been ordered to stop replying and either to leave this harbor at once or to disarm. The Russian cruiser Askold must leave here Monday at noon. These orders were issued by the taotai of Shanghai. It is believed in official circles that both warships will disarm.

The taotai notified the Russian consul general here that if his orders for the two vessels to leave port or disarm were not at once obeyed the Chinese government would effect the disarmament of the ships and their crews would be held in custody until the termination of the war. Permission to repair the boilers of the Askold was refused. The taotai contends that the Askold came into port with two engines and two sets of boilers in operation and that she must leave port in the same condition.

The change in the date set for the departure of the Russian ships (it was previously announced that the Askold would be permitted to remain at Shanghai until next Tuesday) is due to an intimation from Japan that China was siding with Russia and that China's responsibility in the matter was serious. China disclaimed responsibility if Russia failed to observe her neutrality.

The Japanese consul general here declares that the Grozovoi and Askold are seaworthy and that they have been gaining time to repair to their full fighting capacity.

Shanghai, Aug. 20, morning.—The report that the taotai had ordered the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi to cease making repairs at once and to leave this harbor before noon today or disarm, is confirmed, as is the report that the Russian cruiser Askold has received orders from the taotai to leave Shanghai before noon on Monday, or disarm.

It is said to be impossible for the Askold to cross the bar before the spring tide and it is the belief in official circles that both the Grozovoi and the Askold will disarm.

CHINA RESPONSIBLE.

Duty of the Government to Enforce Neutrality.

London, Aug. 20.—The British government continues to watch with the closest attention the policy of China in respect to the Russian cruiser Askold and the destroyer Grozovoi at Shanghai, but it has not departed from its decision to regard the question as one which concerns particularly Russia, Japan and China. Respecting the use of the British dock at Shanghai by the Askold, the government holds that this fact does not relieve China of the duty of enforcing neutrality. Japan, according to the legation, cannot afford to blockade a neutral port indefinitely and point out the case of the Russian gunboat Mandjura. Admiral Togo being compelled to keep a cruiser and a torpedo boat off Shanghai for two months before she finally was disarmed, and the legation asserts that the government of Japan will not repeat such a conciliatory policy in the case of a vessel like the Askold, which has high speed and could do great damage to commerce.

KEEPING UP COURAGE.

Russians See Hope in the Situation in Manchuria.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 20.—(12:30 p. m.)—The report from Chefoo that the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi had been driven from the Japanese position at Palichwang (Palung-Chang), whence they had been bombarding the forts of Port Arthur, was received with considerable gratification at the war office, where it was regarded as evidence that the defenders are strong enough to take the offensive when the opportunity presents itself. For this reason the war office is not inclined to credit the reports that the Japanese have captured forts No. 3 and No. 4, just beyond Kagovos hill, five miles northeast of Port Arthur. It is admitted that the possession of these forts would render the situation of the besiegers desperate.

The war office has no official information from the fortress, going beyond Aug. 8, 9 and 10, which probably was sent through the captured Russian torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi, although this is not admitted. This report tells of the desperate character of the Japanese attacks, which continued practically without intermission for forty hours. General Stoessel's reports of the assaults of Aug. 14 and 15 are expected at any hour.

Sent Two Messages.

Private information coming from Port Arthur by way of Chinese junk says that when the Japanese sent in the flag of truce Friday, they conveyed a message to both the general commanding the fortress and the admiral commanding the squadron.

According to the admiralty's information, the battleship Retvizan was the most unlucky ship in the harbor before the sortie of Aug. 10. Out of 123 shells entering the town five struck the Retvizan, wounding her captain and three other officers. She was also the only ship hit when the Japanese fired over Liao Tiao mountain, the extreme southern part of the Kwang Tung peninsula, during the earlier stage of the operations.

All the military operations in Manchuria have, it is asserted here, been stopped by the rains. Telegrams to the war office describe the terrific effects of the torrential downpours. Many bridges have been swept away and even traffic on the railroad is temporarily suspended. During this heavy weather General Kurapatkin has been busy inspecting the defenses of Anshan-shan, Lian Dian San and Anping. It is understood that the garrison of Anshan-shan consists of only four divisions.

DID THE MOST DAMAGE.

Big Guns of the Japanese Were Accurately Served.

Tsing Tau, Aug. 20.—The correspondent of the Associated Press asked Captain Matousevitch of the battleship Cazarevitch, the late Admiral Witte's chief of staff, in the hospital here today, what lessons he deduced from the naval fight of Aug. 10. The captain was too weak to reply at length, but he said conclusions might be drawn from the fact that ten and twelve-inch guns were accurately served and did the most damage, and that while the Russians at one time were best by thirty-six torpedo boats and destroyers, the latter's fire was very inaccurate and did little damage. The captain does not believe that the rudder shaft of the Cazarevitch was hit by a torpedo, as at first reported. Eight torpedoes were fired at the Cazarevitch but, the captain says, not one of them struck the battleship.

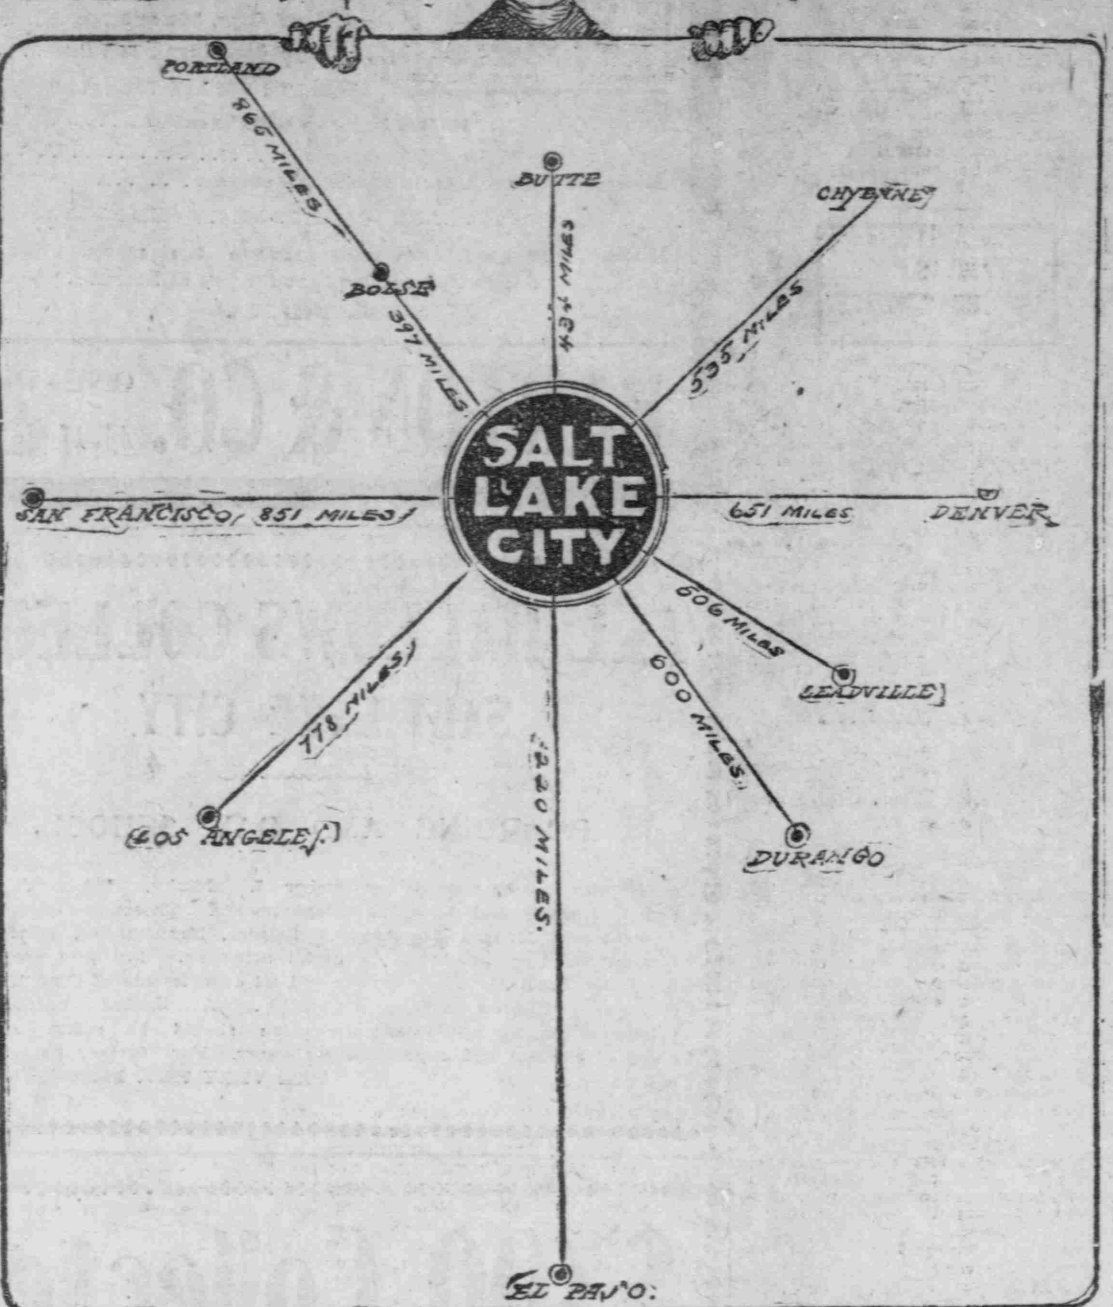

Assault at Daybreak.

Chefoo, Aug. 20.—(12:30 p. m.)—The steamer Pechili, just arrived here, was overhauled and boarded by a Japanese destroyer and five torpedo boats six miles off Liaothesian last night. An Stock Yards Buildings Are Under the Ban.

PACKERS ARE NOW HUSTLING

WILL APPEAL TO THE COURTS FOR AN INJUNCTION.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—The packers will apply to the courts for an injunction to prevent the carrying out of the city's orders that the strike breakers be no longer housed in the buildings in the stock yards. This was decided on at a meeting of the legal representatives of all the packing firms, save one, that are affected by the strike.

Agents of the packers hurried about the yards today reassuring the non-union men and rushing the work of re-habilitating barracks to be entirely separate from the slaughter houses. Arrangements were made to bring in tents to cover every available vacant spot for the same purpose. Small circus tents were sent for to meet the emergency. Swift's car shops were soon taken possession of by the mechanics, who began fitting up the plant's bunk house, and the same was done with other buildings, apart from the killing departments. Every effort was made today to prevent a stampede of non-unionists. The packers declare it was successful and that the exodus was no larger than is usual on Saturdays. Union pickets reported that the desertions were heavy and that the non-union men were in a state of terror.

DONNELLY ELATED.

Leader of the Strikers Assumes Defiant Attitude.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—"I see no peace in sight except on condition that the packers surrender and on unconditional terms. When the people see the report of last night's meeting of the Federation of Labor they will be astonished. We have a trump card to play and it has been drawn from the deck."

So said President Donnelly, of the striking cattle butchers today, while he was directing his assistants to go to East St. Louis to meet the international Vice President Cass E. Schmidt, whom Donnelly will send to Kansas City to look after the labor situation there.

He declared the action of Mayor Harrison in ousting the strike-breakers from the housing rooms in the packing plants meant quicker success to the strikers.

Donnelly hopeful.

Not since the strike began has President Donnelly seemed so hopeful. He criticized the action of the teamsters in sending a committee into the yards to make an inspection.

"I don't see what the teamsters expect to do," he said, "if they don't like this strike, let them go back to work."

On the subject of action by the Federation of Labor Donnelly was silent. He simply declared the report would prove a sensation.

"A national election is coming on," said President Donnelly. "The labor vote is too powerful to be ignored. As soon as I have seen Schmidt in Kansas City I shall go to Indianapolis. While I am away I expect to make several speeches."

Hard Blow to Packers.

The mayor's action in declaring the packers shall no longer house their strike-breakers is the hardest blow our foe has yet received. The packers will have no trouble getting the breakers out of the plants and out of the yards. We will help them do that. If they need any help, and will see that the outgoing crowds are not hurt. But as sure as the sun rises the strike-breakers shall not be able to go back to their places of work."

tested, recourse being had to the courts if necessary.

The packers declared informally before canvassing the situation, that they would contend Major Tolman is mistaken in the premises and that the temporary placing of beds in the plants does not change the character of the buildings any more than the killing of a chicken in a private house would cause evolution of a residence to a slaughter house.

Cruelly Maltreated.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Allen Corten, a strike-breaker, was found unconscious in the stock yards today with his eyes lacerated until the sight had been destroyed. The right eye was practically gouged out, and the man was bleeding profusely. It is believed he also suffering from a fractured skull. The police took him to a hospital.

BROKERS LAND IN JAIL

Practical Joke on a Bunch of Fun-Loving Wall Street Speculators.

New York, Aug. 20.—A joke that miscarried has caused a police raid on a brokerage office in a big building on lower Broadway and the arrest of five men who were locked up on charges of gambling for a lot of pennies. Then all sat down on a big table and were having a lot of fun when the door suddenly flew open and a squad of detectives entered. The brokers explained that they were only amusing themselves, but admitted that they were gambling. The pennies and wheel were confiscated and the players marched off to the station.

It appears that some outsider in a spirit of fun had called up police headquarters and reported a gambling house in full operation in the Old Slip Station which resulted in the raid. The instigator escaped without even giving his name.

TWO ROYAL SPONSERS.

King Edward and Emperor William Godfathers of Czarevitch.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 20.—(5:48 p. m.)—The selection of Emperor William and King Edward to be godfathers of the heir to the Russian throne has created an excellent impression, and is considered to be an especially happy omen of the future relations between Russia and Great Britain. Both Prince Henry of Prussia and Prince Louis of Battenberg, personal representatives of their respective sovereigns, are understood to be bearers of letters to Emperor Nicholas. King Edward's delegation to Prince Louis of Battenberg to be his representative in view of the issues which have arisen between the two countries over maritime law. As chief of the naval intelligence department of the British navy, Prince Louis will be in a position to answer controverted questions with the emperor.

FRENCH DRESSMAKERS LOSE MANY THOUSANDS

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—Magnificent Parisian gowns valued at $600,000 are in a ruined condition in the Palace of Manufactures as the result of the heavy rainstorm which swept over the World's fair. The valuations were placed by Marcel and the acting commissioner general of France, who has investigated the havoc wrought by the water.

The gowns were made by French dressmakers and were one of the most interesting features of the manufacturers' building. They were displayed in glass show cases, but the rain was driven through crevices in the roof of the building and poured down upon the tops and eventually soaking the garments.

Many of the dresses had been sold, to be delivered to St. Louis and Chicago firms at the close of the World's fair. The damage, it is said, cancels the contracts.
